ARMY AND NAVY AT THE EXECUTIVE MANSION.

At eleven o'clock this morning the officers of the Navy stationed in and around Washington proceeded in a body to the office of Secretary Borie, where they were presented to him by Rear Admiral Dahlgren, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance. The Secretary received them in a most cordial manner. The entire party, headed by the Secretary, went in a body to the Executive Mansion, where they entered the East room and waited a few moments to be presented to the President.

After a short time the President, accompanied by Gen. Dent, entered the East room and was introduced to the officers by Vice Admiral Porter. They all shook him by the hand. Prominent among those present were Vice Admiral Porter, Rear Admirals Shubrick, Smith, Goldsborough, Dahlgren, Poor, Howard and Powell.

While the naval officers were exchanging salutations in the East room, the officers of the Army, headed by ex-Secretary Schofield and Gen. Sherman, entered the White House and were shown into the East room. Gen. Sherman approached the President. The two shook hands warmly and vigorously. He then introduced the officers in turn, all of whom were profuse in their congratulations. FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

[FIRST SESSION.]

SENATE Not in Session—Public Credit Bill Passed by the House, with Gold Contract Section Stricken Out—Committee on Elections Announced—Resolution Passed to Adjourn March 26th.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 12, 1869.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The resolution offered by Mr. Butler to appoint a Joint Committee on Indian Affairs was taken up.

Mr. BUTLER explained the resolution, referring to the large number of acts and treaties which had to be consulted by any one to learn anything concerning the Indians.

Mr. WILLIAMS opposed a special Committee for the purpose.

Messrs. SCOFIELD and JUDD advocated the resolution as the best means for securing the end.

Mr. BUTLER was willing to pay the Indians for their lands according to treaty, but was opposed to making treaties to keep the peace. He wanted them in that particular made amenable to law the same as other people are. This was the object of the Joint Committee, to see how far the Senate would put its treaty making power under the operation of law.

Mr. JULIAN said the conduct of the Senate on Indian affairs seemed corrupt and iniquitous. It had refused to listen to the demands of the House for decent legislation.

After further discussion the resolution was agreed to—93 to 47.

Mr. BINGHAM moved a joint resolution fixing final adjournment on the last Friday in March. Agreed to—116 to 14.

Mr. BANKS introduced a joint resolution to recognize the independence of Cuba when a republican form of government was established. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Also, to open negotiations to annex San Domingo to the United States. Same reference.

Mr. WARD offered a preample and resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill on the subject of naturalization laws, so as to prevent frauds in naturalization and secure the surrender of fraudulent papers already issued.

The resolution was then adopted.

Mr. CHURCHILL introduced a bill to define felonies and misdemeanors and regulate peremptory challenges, being the bill reported by him at the last session from the Judiciary Committee, and which was passed by the House, but not acted on by the Senate.

Mr. KERR moved to table the bill and called for the yeas and nays, which were ordered.

Mr. CHURCHILL thereupon withdrew the bill.

Mr. RANDALL introduced a bill to extend bounties to drafted men. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. SCHENCK introduced a bill to strengthen the public credit, and relating to contracts for payment in coin, being the bill of last session of that title as it had passed the two Houses on a report of a Conference Committee.

Mr. ALLISON moved to amend by striking out the second section of the bill, which legalizes gold contracts.

Mr. BURR moved to table the bill. Negatived—yeas, 53; nays, 16.

Mr. Allison's amendment was then agreed to—yeas 86, nays 59.

The bill then passed—yeas 97, nays 48.

Following are the nays on the passage of the Public Credit bill: Messrs. Archer, Beatty, Beck, Biggs, Bird, Burr, Butler, (Massachusetts,) Butler, (Tennessee,) Cobb, Coburn, Crebs, Dewees, Dickinson, Eldridge, Getz, Galladay, Hawkins, Holman, Hopkins, Johnson, Jones, (Kentucky,) Kerr, Knott, Marshall, Mayham, McCormick, McNeely, Moffit, Mungen, Niblack, Orth, Reading, Rice, Reeves, Shanks, Smith, Stevenson, Strader, Styles, Stone, Sweeney, Taffey, Trimble, Tiner, Van Trump, Wilson, (Ohio,) Winchester and Woodward—48.

The SPEAKER announced the Committee on Elections as follows:

Messrs. Paine, Wisconsin; Churchill, New York; Heaton, North Carolina; Cessna, Pennsylvania; Butler, Tennessee; Stevenson, Ohio; Burdett, Missouri; Barr, Illinois, and Randall, of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER stated he would announce all Standing Committees on Monday next.

General Alvarez is quiet and evinces no inclination to visit the capital and answer for the large sums which he received for years from the Acapulco custom house.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Deborah, or Leah, as it has been anglicised, is a character hardly suited to the powers of Miss Janauschek. She does it well, but she shows off her wonderful genius better in some of her other characters, such as Elizabeth or Medea. Yet last night she achieved a magnificent and deserved success. From beginning to end she was successful. Her reading was superb, her poses graceful, sometimes grand, and her drapery artistic; perhaps there was a little too much attention to this, as we sometimes fancied that the clothing of the wretched Jewess would impede her progress. As compared with Miss Bateman's rendition of the character, we think that of the German actress is perhaps inferior; the former was all feeling, and but few eyes were dry in the house the night we saw her, whilst last night, although the audienc was almost entirely an appreciative one, we saw no one weeping, yet all were evidently impressed with the power and finish of the acting; and Miss Bateman herself could have uttered nothing more pathetic than the wild dispairing cry of "Joseph! Joseph!" as the heart-broken Deborah clamored at the gate of her lover's house. It is but just, too, to remember that while Miss Bateman acts nothing else so well as she does Leah, Miss Janauschek acts some other parts much better. Four times she was called before the curtain by the audience.

The other characters in the play were well cast. The stock company is a good one. Miss Siegmann played the part of the widowed Jewess with marked ability, showing a most decided talent. Miss Kuehle as Hannah was very sweet and engaging, and Herr Lederer played the Schoolmaster exceedingly well. The other parts were as well, perhaps better filled than we had expected.

To-night, by universal request, Miss Janauschek, instead of Catharine the Second, will play "Marianne, a Woman of the People."

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Proctor, who during the past week has been the attraction at the Opera House, was the recipient of a benefit last evening. The audience was large and appreciative, and the entertainment was worthy the occasion. "Pizarro" was presented, with Mr. Proctor in the role of Rolla, and Miss Dargon as Elvira, after which Mr. Proctor appeared in "Outahlanchet," which is one of his best pieces. The cast in both pieces was excellent, and especially so in the first piece. We have seldom if ever seen the character assumed by Mrs. Dargon more ably sustained than was done last night. Her reading in the appeal to Pizarro in behalf of Alonzo was superb, and only excelled by her rendition of the character in the succeeding interview. Mr. Proctor will close his engagement this evening, and Monday night Mr. Joseph Jefferson will appear in "Rip Van Winkle."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—In consequence of the delay in the arrival of several members of the new company the reopening of the Pittsburgh Theatre, which was announced for last night, has been postponed until this afternoon. Among the persons who compose the new company we notice the names of the Wood sisters, Miss Lettie Becket and others of equal reputation as artistes.

SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE.—The Victorelli Brothers, who have for two weeks past been the chief attraction at the American Theatre, closed their engagement at that establishment last evening. They will scarcely be missed, however, as the enterprising manager will have some other feature to present as attractive as the Victorellis.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

A correspondent of a leading and influential Boston religious weekly, takes the ground that among the causes of backsliding of church members are secret societies and church gatherings of a worldly character. Converts are brought into close contact with the world in these gatherings, and are taught to return to their former ways and practices. He argues that many have taken their first lessons in gambling at church festivals. Here they meet with the "Wheel of Fortune," "Lotteries," "Grab-bags," "Fish Ponds," "Target-shooting," and a host of new and popular inventions; all he thinks as barefaced lessons in gambling as are given in any gambling hell on the face of the earth. In reply to the argument that this is not gambling, he thinks that the tendency is to teach lessons in lying, which is ever an accompaniment to gambling. The main argument against secret societies is, that the intercourse is wild, sportive and dissipating. Or, if all is decorous, the surroundings are unfavorable to religion.

The Congregational and Methodist churches in Hambden, Ohio, have been holding meetings together, and over fifty hopeful conversions have been reported.

At the dedication of the new and magnificent church of the Unity, (Unitarian,) built in Springfield, Mass., at a cost of one hundred and forty-five thousand dollars, there was quite a mixing of leading Unitarian and orthodox ministers. Dr. Bellows said, in his sermon, let us cry aloud that the Christian faith is still dear to our hearts; let that gospel be preached here. This, he remarked, is not a temple consecrated to nature; it is for the spread of the religion of Christ, and let the spirit of peace touch and sanctify it.

An old lady who kept a candy shop urged as a reason for selling on that day, that she sold peppermints on Sunday because "they carries 'em to church and eats 'em, and keeps awake to hear the sermon." She remarked that she sold comfits on week days because "they're secular commodities."

The Missionary Jubilee of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be celebrated on Sunday, the 4th day of April next, that being the time of the organization of the Society fifty years ago. The collections on that day are to be devoted to building a monumental mission house at New York city.

The Third Presbyterian church of this city, Rev. F. A. Noble, pastor, has adopted the system of a rotary eldership, electing three elders each year for a term of three years. The board of six deacons are put under the same rule. It is stated, also, they have elected six deaconesses. This is progress, and in advance of the Presbyterian order of doing things generally.

The Free-will Baptists organized a Home Mission and Freedmen's Committee four years ago to operate in the West. They have since organized eleven churches, with nine hundred and ninety members.

The Baptist Missionary Union is calling for help, and needs fully one hundred thousand dollars during the present month, in order to end the year without a debt.

Rev. Dr. Charles Gillette, of Brooklyn, Agent of the Freedmen's Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, during a visit to Baltimore on Saturday last, while waiting in a hotel to avoid a snow squall, suddenly dropped dead upon the floor, his death being caused probably by heart disease.

The Church Union under the new arrangement, Rev. Crammond Kennedy editor and proprietor, is to be conducted hereafter without the personalities which formerly abounded in that paper under the old regime. The late copies indicate this favorable change.

Quite a large body of ministers and members of the Central Conference, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Syracuse, New York, recently met to discuss the question of lay representation, and especially to awaken interest in regard to the proposed vote in June next. The action of the convention declared that Lay Representation is right and expedient, and one of the distinctive features of Protestantism, and that such reform is desirable in the Church polity as shall more intimately unite the laity and the ministry, and at least place it in as favorable position as that enjoyed by the laity of any evangelical Church; that a judicious increase of responsibility has for its tendency an increase of interest by its participants in all matters pertaining to the Church. We presume such conventions will be held in different sections of the country before the vote is taken. It would be well to hold one in this city, to be represented by the churches in this neighborhood, sometime early this spring.

Rev. Dr. Bowen, after spending over fifty years in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church, has united with the Free Methodists.

In a Philadelphia Baptist church the baptismal dress of black has been discarded, and one of pure white substituted—a change that meets with great favor.

Reference was made some time since to the great revival in the Baptist church at Salem, New Jersey. The fruits of this gracious work resulted in the ingathering of one hundred and fifty-six souls.

It is reported of Rev. Mr. Murray, of Park street church, Boston, that some Sabbaths since he startled his audience by praying that the Lord might "bless those middle aged females in the congregation whose youthful hopes had been disappointed."

The erection of the new Theological building at Yale College will begin this spring, upon the lot owned by the corporation, on the corner of Elm and College streets, New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Lincoln at Frankfort.

Mrs. Lincoln is at Frankfort with her son, who is at school. She lives at one of the public hotels in a very plain and unpretending style, occupying a room in the third story, keeping very much to herself, and having the reputation of being very industrious. She is quite economical, and if appearances do not mislead, she has no more funds than are necessary to make her comfortable. To Americans she speaks very freely of the good President, her husband, and always with tears. Two periods of the Presidential career of Mr. Lincoln she alludes to with great feeling. The one covers the last day he spent in Springfield before he first started for Washington. The other is connected with the last day of Mr. Lincoln's life. He had a presentment when he left his house at Springfield that he should never enter it again. He was tender, but very sad in all his farewells to his neighbors. When he got into his carriage to go to the station he gave the old homestead, where he had passed so many happy hours of his life, a long, fond, lingering look. Turning to his wife he said: "My dear, take a good look at the old house. We shall never live in it again—never." He leaned back in his carriage and was silent till he reached the station. The day on which Mr. Lincoln was shot he seeemed very sad and worn down. Before he left the breakfast table Mrs. L. said to him: "You need rest, you are exhausted. Promise me that you will ride with me this afternoon at three o'clock," and he promised. Mrs. Lincoln said: "Shall I invite some friends to go with us?" He said: "No; let us go alone." He was uncommonly tender during the whole ride; spoke of their pleasant home in Springfield; their early struggles; the death of their children; the noble men who had died in battle; and the dear friends they had left behind. He seemed like one on the western slope and nearing the going down of the sun, whose joys and the friends of his youth were clustering around him. The rest of the story the world knows by heart. Whatever may have been thought of Mrs. Lincoln during the heat and conflict of the rebellion, she has won on this side of the water only friends by her ladylike and retired conduct. The best friends of America here think she has been treated rather harshly. Military men are unanimous in the opinion that she is entitled to a pension as much as any soldier's widow, for by our Constitution the President is the head of the army, and he fell in the cause of his country.—Cor. Boston Journal.

Now and Then.

A correspondent details this characteristic incident: It seems as but yesterday when, in the first year of the rebellion, Gen. Cameron, who was then Secretary of War, left the department, in consequence of his recommendation to employ colored troops. He was almost alone in his estimate of the magnitude of the contest upon which we were just entering, grasping the subject in its fullest proportions. The most advanced of all the statesmen who were his compeers were far behind him. He saw the advantage of liberating the slaves and employing them promptly, while it took years to convince his countrymen of the necessity. It was a proud recollection to him, doubtless, to-day, when seated in the Senate Chamber alongside of the great chieftain who led the armies, including the colored troops, to our final triumph, and who was able to make these people so available in securing our success, that he had taken his course so early and earnestly in the right direction.

After the inauguration ceremonies I sat by Gen. Cameron's side. As we watched the procession that escorted Gen. Grant to the White House to enter upon the duties the performance of which will doubtless lead to the pacification of our country, and listened with the deepest interest to his utterances in relation to his early efforts to give such a direction to the war as would certainly lead to the abolition and overthrow of Slavery, is it any wonder that he was gratified with such a scene as this? You would have been interested, as I was, if you could have heard him exclaim, "This is a most interesting sight to me. Only seven years since I recommended the emancipation and employment of negroes as soldiers, and in consequence of which I left the Cabinet, being too far in advance of my associates. Now, to see a body of those soldiers joining in the Inauguration ceremonies, and escorting the President to the White House, it is a gratification beyond all power of expression; and as I stood beside the President on the platform, and heard him announce in bold, unmistakable terms that these people should all have the ballot, the change seemed almost too marvelous for belief. It is the most gratifying scene of my life, and it is enough to have lived to witness it."

We are entering upon a new career, with every assurance that it will be a most successful and brilliant one.

Home Politeness.

Should an acquaintance tread on your dress, your best, your very best, and by accident tear it, how profuse your "never minds—don't think of it—I don't care at all." If a husband does it he gets a frown; if a child, he is chastised.

Ah! these are little things, say you! They tell mightily on the heart, let us assure you, little as they are.

A gentleman stops at a friend's house, and finds it all in confusion. "He don't see anything to apologize for—never thinks of such matter—everything is all right," cold supper, cold room, crying children, "perfecly comfortable."

He goes home, his wife has been taking care of the sick ones, and worked her life almost out. "Don't see why things can't be in better order, there never was such cross children before." No apologies except away from home.

Why not be polite at home? Why not use freely the golden coin of courtesy? How sweet they sound, those little words, "I thank you," or "you are very kind." Doubly, yes, trebly sweet from the lips we love, when heart-smiles make the eye sparkle with the clear light of affection.

Be polite to your children. Do you expect them to be mindful of your welfare, to grow glad at your approach, to bound away to your pleasure before your request is half spoken? Then, with all your dignity and authority mingle politeness. Give it a niche in your household temple. Only then will you have the true secret of sending out into the world really finished gentlemen and ladies.

THE following is taken from an advertisement of Dr. X—'s liver-encouraging, silent perambulator family pills: "This pill is as mild as a pet lamb, and it don't go fooling about. It attends strictly to business, and is as certain as an alarm-clock."

Girls Should Learn to Keep House.

No young lady can be too well instructed in anything which will affect the comfort of a family. Whatever position in society she occupies, she needs a practical knowledge of household duties. She may be placed in such circumstances that it will not be necessary for her to perform much domestic labor; but on this account she needs no less knowledge than if she was obliged to preside personally over the cooking stove and pantry. Indeed, I have thought it was more difficult to direct others, and requires more experience, than to do the same work with our own hands.

Mothers are frequently so nice and particular that they do not like to give up any part of the care of their children. This is a great mistake in their management, for they are often burdened with labor and need relief. Children should be early taught to make themselves useful; to assist their parents every way in their power, and to consider it a privilege to do so.

Young people cannot realize the importance of a thorough knowledge of house-wifery; but those who have suffered the inconvenience and mortification of ignorance can well appreciate it. Children should be early indulged in their disposition to bake and experiment in various ways. It is often but a troublesome help that they afford; still it is a great advantage to them. I know a little girl who at nine years old made a loaf of bread every week during the winter. Her mother taught her how much yeast, salt and flour to use, and she became quite an expert baker. Whenever she is disposed to try her skill in making simple cakes or pies, she is permitted to do so. She is thus, while amusing herself, learning an important lesson. Her mother calls her little housekeeper, and often permits her to get what is necessary for the table. She hangs the keys by her side, and very musical is the jingling to her ears. I think before she is out of her teens, upon which she has not yet entered, that she will have some idea how to cook.

Some mothers give their daughters the care of housekeeping, each a week by turns. It seems to me a good arrangement and a most useful part of their education. Domestic labor is by no means incompatible with the highest degree of refinement and mental culture. Many of the most elegant, accomplished women I have known have looked well to their household duties, and have honored themselves and their husbands by so doing.

Economy, taste, skill in cooking, and neatness of the kitchen, have a great deal to do in making life happy and prosperous. The charm of good housekeeping is in order, economy and taste displayed in attention to little things; and these things have a wonderful influence. A dirty kitchen and bad cooking have driven many a one from home to seek comfort and happiness somewhere else. None of our excellent girls are fit to be married until they are thoroughly educated in the deep and profound mysteries of the kitchen.—Presbyterian.

A Remarkable Innovation.

Judge Miller, of Seneca county, New York., some days since introduced in the Assembly of that State two bills looking toward an important change in the common law and statutes of New York, in reference to adopted and illegitimate children. The first and perhaps most important is entitled "An Act for the better Protection of Illegitimate Children and to Restrain and Punish Licentiousness." The second section enables any illegitimate child whose putative or alleged father is living, and competent to give evidence in his own behalf, in a civil action, to bring an action in the Supreme Court against such father for relief, the action to proceed in all respects like any other civil action for relief; and the relief which the child may claim is, first, to establish his paternity; second, to assume the family name of his father; third, to have a proper allowance made him for his support and education; and fourth, to be secured a portion of his father's estate in no case exceeding one half what a legitimate child would be entitled to. The Judge claims these provisions to be simply just to an innocent and helpless child; beneficial to the public in restraining licentiousness and preventing pauperism and crime; and, of course, in the nature of punishment of the more guilty parent. Children of both sexes are also to receive the benefit of the law, but no benefit is to accrue to the mother; nor are the bastardy laws, for the pecuniary protection of the public, interfered with. By section two it is provided that if the child plaintiff succeeds in its action, the Court is authorized to inquire into the character and surroundings of the child, the fortune and legitimate family, if any, of the father defendant; and, in view of all these, to make such allowances to the child for its education as may be just to all parties; and the Court may also decree the to child a portion of the father's estate at the time of the father's death. Subsequent sections give the Court full power to direct about the child's guardianship, etc., and throw guards around the proceedings against fraud, conspiracy, etc. This bill was reported by the Judiciary Committee for the consideration of the House, the attack on the common law being a little too strong for the lawyers on that Committee to make a favorable report.

"FOREMAN" writes to the New York Sun, as follows: "Sir—There are thousands of people in New York and suburbs that would like pianos, and would have them but for the enormous price asked for them. Now I have been foreman in one of our first-class piano manufactories for fifteen years, and I know the cost of every piano made. Instruments sold for $650 cost but $210, and those sold for $1,600, which are handsomely carved grands, cost but $475. You see what enormous profits are made on them. Pianos range from $500 to $2,000, and some styles with an extra molding, which costs but $5, they ask $50 more for. They argue that it looks $100 better. There are dealers in New York that buy pianos of companies and large manufacturers for from $225 to $245, and sell for $650 and $700.

CATARACT, it is announced, has been cured by a French physician without an operation. The new process is to apply to the diseased eye a phosphuretted eye-wash, which gradually restores the transparency of the crystalline lens from the circumference to the centre, which is the last to yield. One fluid ounce of oil of sweet almonds and a grain and a half of phosphorus are dissolved in a water bath at 176 degrees Fahrenheit, in a full and closed vessel. A fluid drachm of the solution should be dropped between the eyelids three or four times a day, for several months or until the cure is completed.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 12, 1869.

There is really nothing that is new or important to be said about the markets in a general way. As has been the case for some time past, the demand for almost everything is very much restricted, being confined mainly to supplying immediate wants, and as a consequence the volume of business is light. We are in hopes, however, now that navigation is fully resumed and the winter pretty well spent, that the spring trade will soon open up, and that business in all its various branches will improve. The Grain and Flour Markets continue dull, and the same is true of Groceries and Provisions.

APPLES—Apples are coming in more freely, but with a steady demand; prices are fully sustained, ranging at $4@6 for fair to prime and $6,50@7 for choice.

APPLE BUTTER—85@90c.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll is in steady demand at 43@45.

CORNMEAL—Sales at $1,75@1,85 per cwt.

CHEESE—Market almost bare; sales

CARBON OIL—Unchanged, at 31@31¼ for standard brands.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at $18@$22.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged: Peaches 14@15 for quarters; 16@17 for mixed, and 18@20 for halves. Apples 11@12¼ cts.

EGGS—The market is a shade stronger and we no quote at 21@22.

HAY—There is a slightly improved demand and a little stronger feeling, but no change in prices—$20@25 as to quality.

HOMINY—$6@$6,25 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 14½ for Shoulders; Ribbed Sides, 16¾@17, and Clear Sides, at 18@18¼, and Sugar Cured Hams 19½. Steamed Lard, 19@19½; and kettle rendered 20@20¼. Mess Pork $32@32,50.

POTATOES—Dull but unchanged, at 75@80 for small lots in store.

PEANUTS—10 cts per pound.

GRAIN—There is no demand for Wheat worthy of the name and prices are nominally unchanged, $1,58@1,60 for prime Winter. Rye is dull but unchanged at $1.43@1,45. Oats quiet but steady, 65@66 on track and wharf, and 68@70 in store. Barley is unchanged at $2@2,10 for fair to good, and $2.15@2,20 for prime to choice do. Corn although in limited supply, is dull and unchanged, at 75@80.

SEEDS—Cloverseed is steady at $10,00 to $10,50, as to quality. Timothy is unchanged at $3,50, and Flaxseed is firmer and we now quote at $2,45@$2,50.

SALT—Is quiet but steady, and is still quoted at $2 by the car load.

SORGHUM—60@65c.

FEATHERS—Live Geese Feathers quoted at 75 to 80, to the trade, and the usual advance in a retail way.

FLOUR—There is only a moderate local demand, and prices are unchanged. Good to choice Spring Wheat brands, $7,00@7,50. Rye Flour, $7,25@7,50. The following are the Pearl Mill prices for their brands of flour made of the best wheat: Pearl Mill three star green brand, in barrels, $10,40 in sacks $10,10; double extra in barrels $9,50, and in sacks at $9,20; Pearl Mill family in barrels, $8,50, and in sacks at $8,50, Spring Wheat brands in barrels $7,50, and in sacks $7,20. RIVER NEWS.

The river was receding slowly at this point last evening, with twelve feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather cloudy and cold with indications of another snow storm. The ice was coming out of the Allegheny pretty sharply late in the day.

The Sallie would have left for Missouri River last evening, had it not have been for the ice. She will leave to-day just as soon as the ice runs out.

The Armenia, Capt. A. S. Shepard, will be the first bout out for St. Louis, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Silver Lake No. 4, Capt. Todd, is announced for Alton and Missouri River.

The Maggie Hays, departed for St. Louis yesterday, with an excellent trip having all the freight she could take, and crowded with passengers.

The Mary Davage and Barges, also departed for St. Louis, with nearly one thousand tons.

The Kenton, arrived from Portsmouth, on Friday morning. She would have been in sooner had it have been for an accident to one of her rudders. Capt. Kerr expects to have his repairs completed in time to leave to-day at noon.

The New York arrived from Louisville with a good trip, including a considerable quantity of corn, dried fruit, etc. etc. for Isaiah Dickey & Co.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day leaving at noon.

The Glendale, from St. Louis, was momentarily expected last evening.

The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, the Glasgow, Capt. Andy Robinson, Jr., and the Savanna, Capt. Robert Isherwood, all good boots, are announced for the Upper Mississippi.

The Camelia, Capt. Joseph Lytle, is filling up steadily and will be the first boat out for Nashville. Passengers and shippers can rely on the Camelia going through.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville, forthwith.

Ald Wm. G. Neeper was a passenger on the Bellevernon, for New Orleans.

—The Mollie Ebert left St. Lonis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

—The towboats Grand Lake and Dick Fulton left New Orleans on Wednesday.

—The Lorena, St Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Evansville on Wednesday, and the Wild Duck was at Louisville the same day.

—Capt. Alexander M'Bride, an old Pittsburgher, but who for some years has been a resident of St. Louis, died at that place on Tuesday.

—The managers of the Northern Line and Northwestern Union Line have agreed upon terms of settlement, but as yet the necessary papers have not been signed.

—The Tobe Hurt, from Wabash River, was at Evansville on Wednesday with a full load of bulk pork and bacon for Cincinnati, without the privilege of reshipping.

—One thousand men are expected to be employed on the permanent Missouri River bridge, in a few days. A large quantity of machinery and material is already on the ground.

—Capt. Joseph Scott, formerly commander of the steamers Prima Donna and Swallow, and known among the river fraternity, is an applicant for the Assessorship of the First District of Cincinnati.

—At Nashville, Tuesday, Captain Arch Overton sold his steamer, the Katy Morrison, to J. M. M'Guire, for the sum of $1,500. The new owner will turn the craft into a grist mill and towboat in the upper Cumberland.

—The Local Inspectors of Memphis on Monday examined the case of the Julia and Mollie Hambleton, the former being run into by the latter while making a landing at Hickman. The pilot on watch at the time, Samuel Bowman, was exonerated from blame.

—An Evansville exchange says: Capt. Dexter is making preparations to form an independent line to run between Evansville, Paducah and Cairo. He intends to organize a stock company, and construct three fine boats, and make the time with great punctuality.

—There are 13,000 tuns rails en-route from England for the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad, to be delivered by steamer at Burlington. The St. Louis & New Orleans Barge Company has engagements for all the freight she can bring Northward during the next three or four months.

—The St. Paul Pioneer says: We called on Commodore Davidson yesterday, and made a vain attempt to extract some news from him concerning river affairs the coming season. All we could obtain was that the two lines had agreed upon a freight tariff, and that he would announce the appointment of officers to his fleet of steamers next week.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette: Somehow, our New Orleans boats will get into trouble. The Silver Spray didn't want to go last night, but the Alaska and Alice Dean wanted her to. The latter were right. This is probably the last trip of the Silver Spray in the "New Orleans & Cincinnati Packet Company." The fast boats of the New Orleans trade have been together heretofore, and the slow boats have been together. This made the whole machinery work badly. Sometimes outside boats have been taken in to fill up gaps.

—St. Louis advices under date of Wednesday, report as follows: The Emilie, Labarge, Admiral Farragut and Importer are advertised for the mountains. The barber of the Peoria City, who left the boat last Monday week, reports the Salvor No. 1 alongside her, and preparations making to raise her. The Submarine No. 13 had been sent to assist. Captain Rowell, of the St. Louis Wrecking Company, has a contract for raising the Peoria City for $6,500 delivered at Cairo; the Cincinnati Wrecking Company declining to take the job at less than $8,000.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 131¼.

ONE CITIZEN of Pittsburgh is an applicant for a Foreign Mission, and seven others for as many Consulships.

THE HOUSE, by concurrent resolution, has fixed upon the 20th inst. as the day for Congress to adjourn. Probably the Senate will concur.

THE HOUSE, at Harrisburg, has postponed the consideration of the XVth Constitutional Amendment till next Wednesday.

THE citizens of Montreal are so well pleased with General AVERILL that they will ask the government at Washington to continue him in his appointment as Consul General.

THE HON. G. V. LAWRENCE has not been appointed First Assistant Postmaster General, and is not an applicant for the place. So far from it, he is urging the retention of the incumbent.

THE CABINET, as it now stands, is much stronger intellectually, and commands a larger measure of public confidence, than it did as originally constituted. The President improves by practice.

IT IS announced that GOV. CURTIN will not accept the Russian Mission, if it shall be tendered him. It is farther said, he thinks this appointment is urged by Senator CAMERON, for the purpose of getting him out of the country—in which conjecture, if he indulges it, we think he is altogether mistaken.

THE views we have reiterated on several occasions as to the duty of impeaching the late President, and the impolicy of the Office-Tenure Act as a substitute for the performance of that duty, are fully sustained by President GRANT, in a conversation between him and Mr. JULIAN, of Indiana, and Mr. LOAN, of Missouri.

THE country has some cause to anticipate some startling revelations as to the inefficiency and lack of integrity shown in the management of the Navy Department under the last administration. Its Bureau of Construction especially presents now the objective point of a common public suspicion, which investigations are likely to satisfy.

PRESIDENT GRANT is doubly reported—first, to the effect that he will remove no incumbent of an office for political reasons so long as the Tenure-of-Office Act remains in force—second, to the effect that he has already resolved to remove many office holders in whose cases only political reasons exist. There is a discrepency In these arguments—but which is right, and which wrong, events will soon disclose.

SOUTH CAROLINA is the tenth State to ratify the XVth Article. From the South we are told that this Article meets the approbation of the rebel element, and that even Georgia will give to it her constitutional suffrage; her Democratic Legislature accepting the situation for themselves the more readily since they see that it places "the Yankees" in the same boat with them. Whatever we may think of such partizan motives, the accession of Georgia to the support of the new Article will supply any possible defection in Indiana and ensures the final establishment of constitutional liberty.

WENDELL PHILLIPS seldom hits the nail more squarely on the head than in this paragraph:

"Congress cannot reconstruct the South—law can. Safety for men and money will. Such a man as Butler in New Orleans is worth now more than a mule load of laws. Hang twenty assassins in every southern Capital six hours after they are arrested, and you will empty half the bank vaults of Christendom into the South; you will light up all its forges and crowd its exchanges with business men. This is the way, soldier of the Wilderness, to 'hammer' the rebellion to pieces. Make your vengeante so swift, sure and terrible that the mere name of a 'Union man' may be as ample protection even on the Del Norte as that of a 'Roman citizen' was to St. Paul at Jerualem,"

THE FRENCH EXODUS FROM MEXICO.

A remarkable statement, in the New York Times of the 10th, completely refutes the opinion, heretofore accepted by the American public, that the exodus from Mexico of the French expeditionary force, which had been sent thither by NAPOLEON III., ostensibly for the purpose of supporting MAXIMILIAN in his pretensions to an Imperial throne, was the result of the vigorous remonstrances of Secretary SEWARD against their continuance within the limits of our neighboring Republic. We need not recall the attention of intelligent readers to the deep and just irritation which NAPOLEON'S flagrant impeachment of our favorite MONROE doctrine awakened among our people at that day. As justly, we regarded this armed intervention, in the interest of a conspiracy which aimed avowedly at the restriction of our natural Republican influence upon this continent, as an offensive menace against international peace. More than that, we were justified in regarding the French policy as a standing declaration of the desire of NAPOLEON to uphold rebel interests within these States, if not by a direct participation in an unhappy conflict, at least by all the moral support which the Confederacy might elicit from a foreign sympathy standing armed at its doors, and never attempting to disguise its hearty good-will.

In deference to the situation, whether that contemplated the peril of an American war or merely the difficulties encountered through the obstinate hostility of the Mexicans themselves, the French Emperor, at last, seemed to yield to the firm and significantly menacing remonstrances of our Government, and, in April '66, officially declared his intention to withdraw his force from Mexico at the earliest possible moment. It has been a matter of real satisfaction to our national pride to cherish a sincere and apparently just belief that this decision resulted from the Emperor's fear of a serious complication with the United States. Secretary SEWARD'S famous note to Count MONTHOLON, the French Envoy at Washington, categorically insisting upon the retirement of the troops, has always been cited as decisive of the issue, and our diplomacy has naturally plumed itself upon the triumph.

We now learn that the withdrawal of the French expedition was due, in one part, to NAPOLEON'S conviction that he had made a decided mistake as to the temper of the Mexican people, and as to the popularity of the affair with the people of France, and that, for the rest, all the diplomatic honor in the premises must be given to Mr. J. W. WEBB, our own Minister to Brazil. This gentleman, an early and personal friend of the Emperor, charged, on his way to Brazil, to confer with NAPOLEON relative to the blockade of our Southern coast, had an interview with him in July, '62, and reported its very favorable result to President LINCOLN. In February, '63, at Rio, he first heard of this Mexican intervention, and wrote at once to the Emperor pointing out his mistake. In May, '63, NAPOLEON replied, in an autograph letter, confessing the blunder and stating his resolution to withdraw at the first practicable moment. That letter was forwarded from Rio to Mr. LINCOLN. By request, it was kept a State secret, but its assurances were regarded as satisfactory. But when JOHNSON came in, in the autumn of '65 the situation became again critical. Fortunately, Gen. WEBB was on his way home in October, and was summoned from London to meet the Emperor at St. Cloud, and there, in a personal conference, the precise details of the arrangement for withdrawing the troops were agreed upon, as afterwards carried out. It was one stipulation that the agreement should remain a State secret with both governments, until April, '66, when the Emperor should himself announce it in the Moniteur, his official organ at Paris. Arriving home, General WEBB laid the paper before the President in December, '65, and the General was on the 6th instructed by Mr. SEWARD to inform the Emperor of its approval by our Government. This practically closed the affair, yet on the same day, December 6th, Mr. SEWARD wrote, and on the 11th delivered, the famous threatening letter to Count MONTHOLON, which the country has since accepted as the really effective solution of the question.

This is certainly a remarkable statement, but one claiming some credit, since it is based, by the Times, upon the authority of General WEBB, and upon the original papers and correspondence. The inference is that, while the undisguised sentiment of the American people had its just weight in influencing NAPOLEON'S decision, the final agreement was due, not to the menaces of our Secretary, but to the personal intervention of another official hitherto unknown in the business, whose good offices co-operated with the judgment of the Emperor himself.

Very naturally, the New York press receive the Times' article with much distrust. The Post says that Appomatox did the business for NAPOLEON in Mexico, but the suggestiou will not account for the Emperor's acknowledgement of his error in '63—two years before. The Tribune says, "wait and see what SEWARD says"—and that remark expresses a very general public curiosity. Of course the other journals ridicule the Times for getting ahead of its rivals in the way of a sensation. And all these agree that this new version of the Mexican affair is only to promote the official aspirations of General WEBB. This is very likely, especially when we remember that the fiction would be altogether too audacious to do any real service to an office-seeking politician.

Conversations with the President.

[From the Syracuse Journal.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—On Saturday evening Representative George W. Julian of Indiana and Gen. B. F. Loan of Missouri called on Gen. Grant, in pursuance of a previous engagement, and had a long and interesting interview with him. A friend, to whom the chief points in the conversation that ensued were narrated, furnished me with some points, which I give.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local applications for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon. If it was not incompatible with the General's ideas of propriety, he (Mr. Julian) would be glad to know what rule would be adopted by the new Administration, as he was in the receipt of many applications, and if expected to give his views, would like to have time to examine fairly into each case.

Gen. Grant replied at once that, except in a few cases all over the country, where he might desire to appoint a personal or army friend, whose ability, &c., he had personal knowledge of, the rule Mr. Lincoln followed would be his. Representatives were directly responsible to the people, and they were the proper persons to recommend.

Mr. Julian then remarked: "General, the case is a little different now. In Mr. Lincoln's time we had no Tenure-of-Office act; now we shall have to defer to the Senators more."

Gen. Grant replied, speaking quite deliberately: "Well, gentlemen, on that matter I can only say that if the law is not repealed, I consider myself bound to enforce it. He had told Senaters, in conversation on the subject, he was a citizen, and bound to obey the laws, which he should do. If the law is not repealed, I shall remove no man from office except for cause." "Then," remarked Mr. Julian, "the fact, General, that an officeholder is a Democrat, and has been a Johnson man, will not in itself be a sufficient cause for removal?" "No," was the emphatic response, "I shall protect office-holders who do their duty, whatever may be their politics, if the law remains, against both Executive and Senatorial interference. I have said this to Senators, and the justice of the view was acknowledged."

There was a great deal of quiet humor in the General's manner when he said that, and he evidently seemed to feel that he had made a point which would worry the anxious politicians into repealing the meddlesome law. A good deal was said in regard to the law, and General Grant expressed his regret at differing with some of his best friends in the Senate—mentioning particularly Senator Howe, of Wisconsin. He seemed also quite confident that the law would be repealed by the Forty-first Congress.

General Logan, who will be remembered as one of the strongest advocates of impeachment, remarked during the conversation on the Tenure-of-Office act, that "I did not vote for the law; my policy was to turn Johnson out."

To this Gen. Grant answered, speaking slowly and thoughtfully, "Well, a good many persons were afraid of impeachment and of the effect of it as a precedent; but," with emphasis, "if they had known Mr. Johnson as well as I did they would not only have favored the impeachment, but seen that it would have been just the thing that ought to have been done and made a precedent of."

Grant and Gen. Hancock.

The Hartford Courant has the following concerning the personal relations of Grant and Hancock:

The New York World blunders in its haste to make a point against Gen. Grant. It intimates that Hancock is assigned to the Department of Dakota in a spirit of petty revenge, and evidently supposes that he is to live in Dakota. It should have related the fact that after the Tammany Convention Gen. Grant, against whom no unkind word or deed against Hancock is charged, met the latter in the streets of Washington, and in his usual good humor gave him a cordial word of greeting, which Hancock passed unnoticed; that is, he "cut" the General. The insult, if tendered while they were on duty, would have subjected Hancock to court-martial. Instead of viewing the assignment of Hancock as malicious, the sarcastic remark of The World that it is "magnanimous" is literally true. The "Department of Dakota" embraces Minnesota, Dakota and Montana, with headquarters at the pleasant post of St. Paul—the department from which Gen. Terry has just been relieved. Gen. Hancock has been treated with a courtesy and a consideration that his unofficial conduct did not merit.

THE Democrats of Indiana have placed themselves and the State in an ugly situation. The Democratic members of the Legislature having resigned in order to defeat the Constitutional Amendment, and new elections having been ordered, it is now arranged that the Democrats who shall be elected to the vacancies shall not present their credentials at all, and so continue to defeat the amendment by making a quorum of the Legislature unattainable. This action will leave the State administration without means of support, and the public institutions, charitable and other, must be closed for want of appropriations.

THE Melbourne Argus, of January 4th, states that wild horses have become such a nuisance in the Orange (N. S. W.) country that devices for trapping them at their favorite watering places are resorted to. Those branded are impounded to be owned—the rest shot and killed, if not sold at auction. One hundred and eighty of them were sold at two cents a head at Blaquey Pound. Skins, at Sydney, were worth one dollar, and hair fifty cents per pound.

A WESTERN editor says the fish in Lake Holleyhunkemunk, Maine, are said to be superior to those of either Lake Weeleyobacock or Moosetecmegantuc. Those of Chauhungogungamaung were very fine, but they all choked to death in trying to tell where they lived.

—A large fleet of fishing vessels arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Thursday, from Georges Banks. Nearly all suffered the losses of cables and anchors by weather of almost unexampled severity. It is said the losses will consume the profits of the fishery for the present year.

Washington Items.

These is undoubtedly a clear majority now in the Senate in favor of keeping out Georgia from representation until she is so reconstructed as to provide for guarantees to colored men in their rights, and to arrest the outrages on and murder of Republicans, and it is to secure final and necessary decision that the subject is now pressed.

Mr. Sumner has urged J. L. Motley strongly for England, and believes he will be appointed. The President said he should not remove Hale from Madrid at present. Mr. Sumner thinks Mr. Marsh will be retained in Italy, while many think Mr. Shellabarger, of Ohio, is going there. Cassius M. Clay's resignation of the Russian Ministry has been received.

The appointment of Hamilton Fish is not received with much enthusiasm, but no objections have yet taken shape.

General Rawlins, as Secretary of War, is a general surprise, although his name has some times been mentioned in that connection. It is generally supposed that his appointment is only temporary, as General Grant has repeatedly declared that he should not appoint a military man at the head of the War Department, nor a naval officer to the Navy Department. It is also thought that his feeble health will not endure the confinement and anxiety of a Cabinet office.

The nomination of Confederate General Longstreet for the lucrative office of the Surveyor of Customs in New Orleans is variously commented on. The selection is warmly applauded one side and severely condemned on the other. All admit it was a brave act on the part of the President. His confirmation will meet with strong opposition and provoke much discussion.

The Wisconsin delegation in Congress are pressing the name of Horace Reubler, editor of the Madison State Journal, for Minister to Switzerland, and they announce that he will be nominated.

ACCORDING to the results of late recent deep sea soundings, it is announced that the bottom of the sea, at great depths, is covered by a continuous mass, extending over miles in extent, of what may be considered as one single animal. It is thought to form the lowest stage of animal life on the globe, and is supposed to derive its nourishment directly from the mineral world, as in the case of plants. The new animal has been baptized by the euphonious name of Bathybius.

—Sandwich Islands advices to February 20th state the Honolulu papers are discussing the Coolie trade, authorized by act of the Legislature in June last. The Board of Immigration had dispatched a vessel to the Polynesian Islands for a cargo of natives. The missionary authorities were prohibited from sending letters and papers by vessel, creating great illfeeling. This suspicious movement fails to meet the approbation of the United States Minister, and it is expected the government of the United States will interfere to prevent the forced importation of natives from the neighboring Islands.

Obituary.

We are pained to announce this morning the demise of Mr. Frank C. McClure, which occurred at his residence, in Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, at four o'clock. The deceased served during the rebellion in Company A, 102 Regiment, Penna. Volunteers. He was a brave and faithful soldier, and a genial, warmhearted companion, whose death will be regretted by a large circle of comrades and friends. The association of his old Regiment will doubtless take some action in regard to his death.

BE CAREFUL.

At no season of the year is the above injunction of more weight than now. The changes of temperature have been so sudden from warm to excessive cold, that the human constitution, like everything else in Nature, feels the shock, and gives way to its impressions. Thousands of people who lie down at night, unconscious as it were, of injury to the constitution, wake up with hoarseness and coughs, which, unless the first symptoms are heeded, are apt to involve the lungs or some other of the vital organs in deep seated and incurable disease. If the fact were as well known to all our readers as to ourselves, that an infallible cure for most of these incipient ailments may be procured in DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, the Doctor's new store would soon be too small to meet the exigencies required of it in the manufacture of this valuable medicine. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure is without doubt a valuable desideratum in the cure of disease, a fact well known to thousands of people who have been relieved by its health-giving power. If the proper estimate were placed on human life and health, those who neglect coughs and colds would be fewer in number. Dr. Keyser would in no case, of a serious character, advise the dispensing with a doctor, but how many hundreds are there who, in the beginning of a disease, could be cured before a doctor could be reached. It is in these cases, as well as others of a more serious nature, that the lung cure comes to our aid and dispenses health and comfort, which otherwise would never be obtained. It is thus a handful of roots and herbs are made into a healing syrup, which is often the precursor of health and usefulness. The suffering invalid would often apply for relief if he knew where to promptly obtain it; and that it can be promptly obtained in Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure is no longer a doubtful problem. Let not the March winds make dangerous inroads upon your health, when, with a few doses of this syrup, you can fortify your system as well as drive out of it those noxious miasms which undermine its strongholds and render its exertions nugatory.

HOW HOSTETTERS BITTERS CURE DYSPEPSIA.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called CHYME. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving ailment. The CHYME passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the Chyme into Chyle, and promote the passege through the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia and liver complaint. The explanation is plain, simple, philosophical, and true.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

IN DESCRIBING A

RECEPTION

AT THE WHITE HOUSE,

The Washington Star Says:

"A peculiar style of wearing the hair, last evening, among the ladies, was a subject of much comment, and the remarks were, for the most part, altogether in its favor, as a becoming substitute for the waterfall."

An exchange says: "Now that the 'waterfall' is a little passé, it is rumored that it originated not in Paris, but in India." The luxuriant, glossy tresses of the maidens of the Indies have, for centuries, been celebrated and sung by a thousand bewitched poetasters, while the secret of their highest charms remained undiscovered. It was left to Burnett, the famous Boston chemist, to solve the mystery, in the invention of the article styled "COCOAINE," by which the active principle of cocoa-nut oil (a product which the natives used,) is secured in a deoderized and liquid form, delightfully perfumed and chemically combined with other ingredients. This compound forms an article unrivalled in excellence, upon which the public has, for years, set its seal of enduring approval. Its fame is unrivalled."—Cincinnati Enquirer, Feb. 19, 1865.

Burnett's Cocoaine

Is the hair-dressing which the belles and fashion of this country use. The effect upon the glossiness and richness of the appearance of natural and artificial hair is equally durable, splendid and efficacious.

"Burnett's standard preparations are celebrated throughout the civilized world."—N. Y. Tribune.

Burnett's Standard Preparations

Are just now all the rage among the ladies, who generally indorse them as unrivalled. They express themselves as highly delighted with and dwell with no slight enthusiasm on its wonderful effect in promoting and preserving the beauty of the hair.

Burnett's Cocoaine,

Burnett's Kalliston

is equally admired as a healthful, fragant and beautifying cosmetic. Burnett & Co. are also the proprietors of the choice perfume called

Burnett's Florimel,

and of the pleasing dentrifice

Burnett's Oriental Tooth Wash.

They have since added

Burnett's Cologne Water

to the list. It is much admired by connoiseurs, among whom it has acquired the reputation of being second to none other, foreign or domestic.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS

Take unexceptional rank as the best made in America. They are carefully prepared from fruits and spices of the best quality. Their universal success is based upon their merit. Reference is made to the principal Purveyors, Confectioners and Hotels in the United States.—Chicago Tribune.

SUBSTANTIAL TESTIMONY.

NEW YORK, January 6, 1868.

BURNETT'S STANDARD PREPARATIONS rank high among the leading staples in our line of trade. Experience has taught us that a reputation so wide-spread and enviable as that enjoyed by the articles of their manufacture, can only be earned by genuine merit.

Yours, respectfully,
DAMAS BARNES & CO.

The above expresses the opinion of dealers generally. For sale wholesale and retail by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

Burnett's Oriental Tooth Wash

Is a preserver of the teeth, and beautifies them without injury to the enamel. In this respect it stands alone. The evidence of Chemists and of the Dental Faculty substantiates these facts.

Burnett's Florimel

Closely resembles the odor of a rare and delicate boquet of flowers, and in this respect stands unrivalled. A few drops will leave its peculiar and delightful fragrance upon the handkerchief for many hours.

SMYTHE'S

AMERICAN THEATRE,

PENN STREET,

NEAR SIXTH, LATE ST. CLAIR.

W. C. Smythe, Sole Lessee and Manager.

DOORS OPEN AT 7, COMMENCE AT 8 O'CLOCK.

SUCCESS! SUCCESS! SUCCESS!

Crowns every effort of the management. As a proof of the manner in which business is conducted at the

AMERICAN THEATRE,

The Manager respectfully submits to the general public the following copy of the governing each and every performer at his establishment:

Punctuality and attention being necessary to success in business, the Manager deems it expedient to establish the following Rules and Regulations for the purpose of guarding against results which might ensue from the carelessness of those persons who do not sufficiently appreciate the responsibility which they assume in a professional engagement:

FIRST—It is assumed, in all engagements, that the performer is an expert in the business, and fully qualified to perform according to the contract; therefore, incompetency will render the contract null and void, and subject the performer to immediate dismissal from the establishment.

SECOND—All the members of this Company are regarded by the Manager at the time of engagement, as adies and gentlemen; therefore, any conduct which is unbecoming the above mentioned character, or calculated to bring the establishment into disrepute, will subject the offender to immediate dismissal, with forfeit of the salary due at the time of such occurrence.

FHIRD—There will be a rehearsal every morning, (Sundays excepted,) at 10 o'clock A. M., unless otherwise arranged by the Stage Manager.

FOURTH—Being late at Rehearsal, (ten minutes being allowed for difference of clocks,) $1. Being absent the entire Rehearsal, $3.

FIFTH—Any member making unnecessary noise behind the Curtain, either on the Stage or in the Dressing Room, during the time of the performance, will forfeit 25 cents.

SIXTH—Any member bringing strangers behind the Curtain, or on the Stage, or into the Dressing Room, without the consent of the Manager, will forfeit $10.

SEVENTH—The Stage Door is the proper entrance for the members of the Company, and any performer passing through the auditorium after the hour of opening, will forfeit $5.

EIGHTH—Persons commencing the evening performance must be ready at the time advertised in the Programme of the day; $5 will be exacted for a failure to comply with this rule, and $1 forfeit will be exacted from any performer who shall make an unnecessary stage walk during the performance.

NINTH—Every performer is expected to accept an encore when the bell is rung by the Stage Manager. His decision is alone considered necessary. Failing to comply incurs a forfeit of $5.

The Stage Manager and Ballet Master will hand their weekly accounts of forfeits to the undersigned on each Saturday evening.

W. C. SMYTHE.

The above rules are deemed sufficient to satisfy the public that none but the

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 12, 1869.

The large short interest in the Five-Twenties of 1862 has been the cause of a sudden rise from 118¼ to 120. This class of securities are now almost as scarce as 1881's, and will soon disappear from the market. In 1865 old bonds the market opened strong, as likewise the 1864's, but prices were not maintained at the close. In new issues of 1865, 1867 and 1868's, which latter are very scarce, the market is barely steady and likely to react. The first favorable change in the weather will give to spring business an unusual impetus, thus making money easier and requiring heavy shipments of currency West and South. It is thus that considerable amounts of 1867's will be disposed of that were held as temporary investment.

The gold market is dull and devoid of any interest. Fluctuations were within three-eighths per cent. which will prevent large speculative transactions, and from the known views of the new Secretary of the Treasury it is inferred that he means contraction and lower prices for gold. It is thus likely that a further reaction downward will take place before the bull element will enter the market as such. The shipment of corn to Europe would lead, it is supposed, to an early rapid rise in the premium.

Stocks were inactive without any movement of magnitude. Erie was the only stock which showed any activity. After two months of neglect, a clique is at work to manipulate the market, so as to create a short interest, for which the old clique has the material in hand.

Business dull. Money easier.

NEW YORK, March 12, 1869.

Money easy at 6@7 on call; discounts quiet at 7@8c. There is a feeling in general that all large borrowers among stock brokers have negotiated a loan for several months ahead, said to be in view of an important movement on the bull side. Sterling firmer, 8¾@8⅞ for prime bankers at sixty days, and 9¼@9⅜ for sight. The gold room was comparatively quiet to-day. Gross clearances $82,000,000. The price opened at 31½, advanced to 31⅝, and closed at 31½@31¼.

Governments are active, buoyant and higher, with the demand chiefly on the later issues of domestic bonds, but orders from the interior were large, and some financial institutions bought freely; '62s reached the highest price ever paid, but as the market is entirely bare of them this is not strange; new '65s and 67s were the chief feature of the day. Coupons '81, 116½@116⅝; do. '62, 120@120¼; do. '64, 115¼@115½; do. '65, 117⅝@117¾; do. new, 113¼@113⅜; do. '67, 113¼@113⅜; do. '68, 113¼@113⅜; Ten-Forties, 105½@105⅝.

There appears to be considerable short interest in gold, which soon made 2@2½ per cent. for carrying to flat for borrowing.

State Bonds quiet and firm. Missouris, 88@89; New Tennessees, 65½@65¾; Old Tennessees, 66@66½; North Carolinas, 59¼@60; Louisiana Levee Sixes, 70⅜.

The Railway market was strong during the forenoon with a well distributed business. Express shares steady but lower than yesterday under the report that the settlement between the Erie Railway and the United States Express Company was not completed. In the afternoon the Railway market was lower but closed steady though dull. Miscellaneous shares quiet and steady.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 12, 1869.

The market was again in a very peculiar condition to-day, and as noted for some days, the current seems to be floating in an unusual direction. New York continues to be the selling point, and strange as it may appear, Pittsburgh continues to furnish the buyers; heretofore Pittsburgh has received the credit of making and selling the oil while New York and Philadelphia did the buying. How long this strange and unatural state of affairs will continue it is difficult at this writing to determine, but it would certainly look better for the trade to have the tables turned—for New York to buy and Pittsburgh to sell. As we have previously noted, this is a determined movement on the part of some of the New Yorkers to bring about a decline, and that they have accomplished something in that direction is plain enough, but as yet it does not appear that the results have been commensurate with the means employed, as the break thus far has not caused anything like a panic, though there are those who are confident the bottom has not yet been touched.

CRUDE—We can report a continued quiet market with but little offering, and but little wanted. Sale of 1,000 bbls for March, seller, at 16; and 1,000 each (40 to 46) July to December at 17½. We heard of an offer to sell 10,000 bbls for April, seller's option, at $5,65 on Oil Creek, which is a decline, the last sale—on Wednesday—being at $6.

REFINED—Also was very quiet here and the same appeared to be true of Philadelphia, while New York was offering to sell pretty freely, and that, too, at a decline. March was offered at 34; and we heard of offers to buy 500 each, May to September, at 36¼; and 500 each July to December, at 36½—all Philadelphia deliveries. New York deliveries were offered at lower figures.

—Sales 1,000 bbls Crude for March, seller, at 16½; 1,000 same delivery at 16½; and 1,000 spot, (40 to 45) at 16¼.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 12, 1869.

The Metal market has been rather quiet during the past week, and while some particular descriptions are a shade easier, as a general thing there has been no essential change in prices compared with last week. There seems to be rather more inquiry for Foundry Irons, and with a limited supply of this particular kind, holders are a little firmer in their views.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Annual Report of the Managers of the Ladies' Tract Society of Allegheny City—Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

Another year of active labor has ended, and with gratified hearts we acknowledge the kind hand that has led us and the tender mercy that has crowned our labors with abundant success.

And to our Gracious Master, who hath so richly blessed our humble efforts to serve him, be all the glory forever.

The same monthly round of visitation, the same earnest efforts to bring souls to Christ by the dissemination of the same truth, with little variation in object or plan, have been pursued during the present as in former years. And although the facts and figures of this report are much the same as those found in former years, the work has been entirely new. The water obtained from yon gushing fountain is the same in element and appearance each year, yet pleasant and refreshing each day and hour.

So the oft-told story of a Saviour's love has fallen from the lips of the faithful visitor with all the interest of an unheard tale, the act of kindness and the word of comfort have been just as welcome as if never received before. And as the changing seasons come and go, each cycle completed calls forth our record of labor much like that of the preceding, yet each chapter of our history, measured by each revolving year, affords new incidents, shows advancement and urges on to greater exertions and larger success. The object of this Society is not to advance the interests of any particular sect or creed, but "to promote evangelical religion by the circulation of tracts, by conversation and prayer," to aid in bringing the masses under the influence of the Gospel. In this Association women of all Evangelical denominations heartily co-operate in their efforts to advance the cause of our blessed Redeemer. The visitations are made monthly, and it is the aim of the Society to send distributors to all parts of the city. It is the duty of the visitor to search out every family, to present each family a tract, and to supply all who desire it with a copy of the American Messenger for a small compensation; to speak a word for Christ to every one; calling attention to religious subjects, and trying to enforce the truth contained in the tract. In addition to this general work, the sick are sought and kindly cared for: children who do not attend Sabbath School are introduced to some neighboring school; families found destitute of the bible are furnished with a copy by sale or gift from the Ladies Bible Society of Allegheny. Thus, through the efforts of the tract distributors many are persuaded to attend the house of God, and thousands who never enter the sanctuary are supplied with Gospel truth. Thus many sick and sorrowing are cheered and comforted, and helped to bear life's trials patiently; thus many tempted ones are enabled to resist the tempter, and thus some of the fallen are reclaimed. In this work ninety visitors have been engaged during the year. These and the twenty-four managers form a corps of earnest workers numbering above a hundred. Through their persevering efforts, (even in summer's heat and winter's storm,) 56,500 tracts and 31,500 Messengers in the English language, and 22,200 tracts and 8,200 Messengers in the German language, have been circulated. In addition to this a number of Welsh and French tracts have been distributed; several families have been supplied with the Bible; 164 children have been gathered into Sabbath School, and a number of persons found sick and destitute have had their wants supplied on application to the Ladies' Relief Society of the city. And while earnestly laboring in the cause of home evangelization, the efforts of the Society have not been confined to our own city. Many tracts and Messengers have been sent to Sabbath Schools in the rural districts. From month to month the "Women's Christian Association" has been supplied with tracts and Messengers to distribute in Pittsburgh. For several months tracts have been sent to the Soldiers' Hospital, and last month a supply of tracts was sent to the House of Refuge. During the summer two of the visitors distributed many tracts, books and Messengers among the Roman Catholic population about Cresson. Many tracts and papers have also been distributed by visitors while travelling upon the cars. Such is the record of the last year's work. But what figures shall represent the good accomplished—the sad hearts made to rejoice in Christ, the suffering ones relieved and comforted, the sin sick souls brought to the Great Physician, the erring feet turned into the ways of righteousness and peace? What Arithmetic can estimate the value of the immortal souls made gems in the Redeemer's crown by the tract, the Messenger or the earnest word of the distributor? Think you tract distribution is thankless, fruitless labor? It would do your soul good to meet the hearty welcome that generally awaits the faithful visitor, and a single tract may be the means of converting many souls. One little tract sent by a child to a Missionary was the means of converting fifteen hundred souls; one little tract brought in a peddler's pack to the door of his father was the means of converting Baxter, Doddridge, Wilberforce, Leigh, Richmond, and through them of converting thousands more. The circulation during this year has been greater than during any preceding year. What the harvest of this year's sowing of Gospel truths in thousands of hearts may be we cannot tell; but, like the Egyptians who sow their grain upon the swollen tide, knowing they will reap an abundant harvest, we have sown good seed upon the rushing tide of human life, believing it will yield a golden harvest in the future. We have sown the truth in garret and cellars, in dark lanes and narrow alleys, in bar-room and saloon, in the homes of rich and poor, upon the street and in the place of business—committing it in earnest prayer to the Holy Spirit, who can cause it to grow and to bring forth fruit. In the extension of our efforts, and the interesting experience of some of our visitors, we feel greatly encouraged. We have known a happy home rendered miserable by the demon Intemperance, the father held so tightly in the iron grasp of that fearful monster, that to indulge his craving appetite he was willing to sacrifice even the life of his innocent babe! faint, sick and poor, he was prevailed on to take the pledge, to be a man once more, a kind father, a loving husband, books were given, and repeated visits encouraged him to keep his pledge, to attend the house of prayer and to send the children to Sabbath school. And for months happiness has reigned in that household, where sorrow and misery held sway before. Many incidents of interest might be related, but we must not tax your patience with the recital. Thus for a quarter of a century this Society has been carrying on its humble work. Commencing with but four or five it has steadily increased until its number of earnest workers is now more than a hundred, and its influence is felt throughout the city and beyond. Each year has been marked with progress, and tonight with thankful hearts for past successes, we celebrate the Twenty-fifth Anniversary. The Arithmetic of Eternity above can estimate the result of these years of faithful efforts. But while we rejoice in our abundant success with deep regret we are called upon to announce the death of some of our most earnest workers. One of these, Mrs. Eliza J. Patterson, was one of the founders of this society, and for more than twenty years was permitted to labor for its advancement as a manager and distributor. This humble, earnest, consecrated servant of Christ, like her blessed Master, ever went about doing good, and like Dorcas, she was often supplying the wants of the needy. She lived to glorify her Redeemer, and after spending half a century in faithful labor for His cause, in the evening of life, at the advanced age of three score and two, she has been called to rest from her labors, to lay down the Cross, and to put on the crown richly decked (as we earnestly believe) with stars which represent those whom she had led to Jesus. And though removed from our band of faithful workers, her memory is most precious and her noble example is ever before us inciting us to renewed efforts in the Master's Cause. But another consecrated one has been taken from our number. Miss Tillie E. Fleeson, a faithful manager, a kindly, successful visitor, has been summoned to the Master's presence to hear the joyous greeting, "Servant of God, well done, thy mansion is prepared, thy crown is ready, enter into the joy of thy Lord." She was ever at her post, always faithful, and though called away before life's bright meridian had been attained, her labors for the good of others were many. How kindly we cherish her memory, and may we all profit by her most excellent example. Still another has left us this year, Miss McCullen, after several years of earnest effort as a distributor, has peacefully departed, to enter upon the blessed reward of her labors. Thus one by one the crowns are given, these all died in faith, and now rest in God. And, now, kind friends, we ask your prayers, contributions and assistance. By the blessings of God and your Christian liberality, the Society is clear of debt. We need distributors. To the friends of the Society, to the pastors of the Churches, to the Christian public, we appeal for laborers. Will not some of those, whom God has blessed with health, wealth and time to work for Jesus, come to our aid, seek out the lost and perishing, and tell them of a Saviour's love? Your assistance is greatly needed; how can you refuse it? How can you, at the Saviour's feet, before the awful judgment seat, lay down for golden sheaves nothing but leaves?

Some of our faithful workers have been removed, who will take their places? Thanking God for past success, and trusting him for the future, we enter upon the labors of another year, hoping to increase our influence for good, to win many jewels for the Saviour's crown.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., March 11, 1869.

The Independent Order of Good Templars of the Brighton County District met in quarterly Convention in their Hall in this place at two o'clock this afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by Worthy Chief Templar Woodruff, who requested Rev. S. F. Crowther to act as Worthy Chaplain, who opened the Convention by prayer.

Worthy Secretary R. Anderson read the minutes of the last quarterly Convention, held at Beaver Town.

Brothers Kennedy, Edgar and Moorhead were constituted a Committee on Credentials.

Worthy Chief Secretary S. B. Fossett resigned, and on motion Brother Edgar, of New Brighton, was elected without opposition.

Sister Mattie Brierly was constituted Financial Secretary.

Reports were called for from the different Lodges represented.

Brother Joseph Alexander reported New Brighton Lodge in a flourishing condition, initiating members every week, and doing a good work in the community.

Brother J. H. McCreary reported Beaver Lodge in good condition, getting along rather slowly, but they think surely, having a worthy membership.

Brother Anderson reported Amaranth Lodge getting along very well, their membership increasing.

Brother Bisell reported Enola Lodge doing a good work. Though not strong numerically, yet made up of earnest work.

Sister Chapin, of Amaranth Lodge, S. F. Crowther of New Brighton, and Bisell of Enola Lodge, were elected a committee on resolutions.

After a short recess the convention was called to order, and the arrival of Hon. S. B. Chase, Grand Worthy Chief Templar of the State of Pennsylvania, was announced. He was introduced to the convention with proper ceremonies, and then proceeded to address the convention on the importance of the Temperance work, the importance of organization, and the great importance of individual action in order to success.

Resolved, That the first two hours of to-morrow morning's session be devoted to degree work, conferring degrees, &c.

Brothers A. Bostwick, Anderson and Carter were appointed a Committee on Business.

At the request of the Convention Mr. Chase occupied the time until the hour for adjournment in discussing the question, "How shall we make our weekly meetings interesting?" He made the following points: 1st. Have a suitable and pleasant place of meeting. 2d. Be prompt in everything. 3d. Maintain good order. 4th. Manifest an interest in the cause and keep well informed on the subject. 5th. Intersperse the exercises with good and suitable music.

PUBLIC LECTURE.

In the evening Mr. Chase delivered an entertaining and interesting lecture in the Presbyterian church, to a crowded house. J. Whitsell, of Sewickley, followed in an earnest appeal to the people to come to the rescue of the unfortunate inebriate and his family.

Remonstrances against granting any more licenses to sell strong drinks in New Brighton, were circulated and quite a number of names secured. C.

Leonard Hartman, indicted for felonous assault, Bernard Auth prosecutor, was next placed on trial. The difficulty, out of which the case originated, occurred in Auth's saloon, Smithfield street, on the night of the 20th of January. It appears that the accused called for beer which was furnished him, for which he refused to pay. He started to leave the saloon and Auth attempted to detain him, but was unable to do so. Hartman left, but subsequently returned and attempted to cut Auth with a knife. Jury out.

MORTGAGES.

School Taxes.

EDITORS GAZETTE: From the published proceedings of the Central Board of Education, at their last meeting, it appears that they demand the repeal of a recent act of Assembly in relation to the collection of school taxes in the city of Pittsburgh.

On inquiry I find that the act complained of provides for the collection of the school taxes by the City Treasurer at the same time and in the same manner that other city taxes are collected.

What objection the Central Board has to this reform is not stated. To those who have the taxes to pay it has many things to recommend it. It is convenient—each taxpayer knows when and where to pay his taxes. And the experience of the people in the payment of city and county taxes has satisfied most persons that it is the cheapest method, and thus in the end lessens taxes.

If the recent act is defective in details it should be amended. But the interest of the community certainly should prevent its repeal. TAXPAYER.

SAFE UNDER ALL CIRCUMSTANCES!

A FEW TESTIMONIALS:

NEW ORLEANS, July 9, 1868.

I have examined with the utmost care, and subjected to the most severe experimental tests, the Danforth Petroleum Fluid, and find it perfectly Non-Explosive, more easily extinguished when purposely ignited, and in my opinion the safest of all the Fluids produced from Crude Petroleum which I have examined. COLUMBUS, O., December 4, 1868.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

I have examined the Petroleum Fluid sold by Messrs. Smith & Talbot, of this city, and am satisfied that it is safer to use than Coal Oil in any other form which has come to my notice. It is non-explosive. The Board of Underwriters of this city examined it carefully, and do not charge any increased rate of insurance on account of its use, or in buildings where it is kept for sale in quantities not exceeding our City Ordinances.

Throwing Rubbish on the Pavement.—Mr. J. Bristol, keeper of a store on Penn street, was before the Mayor yesterday morning, charged by officer McMullen with violating the ordinance by throwing quanties of rubbish on the street. A slight fine was imposed, and he was warned not to repeat the offense.

Painful Accident.—John McQuoter, an employe in Coleman & Co.'s mill, in South Pittsburgh, was painfully injured on Wednesday afternoon, by being struck with a heavy pair of tongues, used for conveying the hot iron to the puddling furnace, and which fell from a rack just when he was passing under it. His injuries are not considered dangerous.

Domestic Row.—Hannah Bowman alleges that her husband, George Bowman, while intoxicated yesterday, created a row in his domicil by first whipping her severely and then smashing considerable of the furniture. George was arrested and in default of fine lodged in jail by Alderman Strain for disorderly conduct. Subsequently he paid the fine and was released.

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

The Essay Contest Last Night—Award of the Prize.

It is a matter of congratulation with our people that they have here in the heart of our busy, bustling city an institution where young ladies are trained to think for themselves, to think well and deep, and to give expression to their thoughts in language, pure, beautiful and concise. It is pleasant to know while the great processes of mechanism, art and science go on in the dingy workshops unceasingly, and swarthy, muscular men advance steadily in their useful knowledge, that bid away from the outer world, and yet within hearing of the music of industry, the minds of timid maidens, future wives and mothers, are being carefully directed into proper channels and so elevated, shaped and moulded as to render their possessors honorable and useful members of the society they are destined to adorn. Those who were fortunate enough to be present at the annual essay contest of the Pittsburgh Female College last evening, and drank in the noble thoughts and sentiments framed by clear heads and gushing from pure and guileless hearts, must have felt prouder than ever of our city since nestles in its soot-begrimed bosom an institution capable of imparting such education to the young and innocent, and of laying the foundation for lives of usefulness and virtue. The Essay Contests of the past have ever drawn iorth mental offerings of high order from the pupils, and have been occasions highly enjoyable by educated people, and it was therefore not surprising that the elegant College Chapel was honored last night with an assemblage conspicuous for culture and refinement.

The exercises were opened with a brilliant instrumental duet by Misses Alexander and Kimball, after which was addressed to the Throne of Grace an eloquent and fervent prayer by Rev. W. H. Locke. A vocal trio by the Misses Sawyer and Miss Van Hook was rendered in an artistic manner, the ladies developing much power and brilliancy. The first essay "God calls the workman home, but still the work goes on," was read in a clear, sweet voice by its author, Miss Anna M. Lindsay. The audience was struck with the depth of thought and beauty of the composition and awarded the gifted young lady earnest applause. The subject, pretty and poetic in itself, was handled with marked propriety, the language was elegant and arranged with admirable good taste and precision. Perhapsit will not be deemed invidious to say that the essay exhibited in its construction and depth more solid brain labor than any offered. We secured the manuscript, intending to lay it before our readers, but its length deprives them of that intellectual pleasure. Miss Lindsay is gifted with no ordinary talent, and will make her mark high in the field of literature if she has the perseverance to go forward.

Next Miss Emma Sawyer favored the audience with a vocal gem, in Italian, from the Opera of Martha, acquitting herself with decided credit. Miss A. Dickson read a biographical sketch of Goethe, the German Poet, in which she exhibited keen research and full knowledge of character. The closing part of her essay was vigorously worded, full of harmonious sentences and at times brilliant and sparkling. Miss E. Kimball offered a piano solo, which was rapturously received and displayed the high musical attainments of the young lady. She was followed in an operatic gem by Miss M. M'Mullen, a very young lady with a marvellously powerful voice, which she has under good control and fine cultivation. "Earth and its beauties" were ably discussed in Miss M. Duff's essay. Her sentiments were fresh, well expressed and correctly arranged, and altogether the essay was worthy the applause it received. Another vocal gem was rendered by Miss E. Sawyer, after which a classical instrumental performance on organ and piano was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Blessner, who preside over the Department of Music of the College. It was a grand interpretation worthy the high musical reputation enjoyed by the performers not only here at home but throughout the entire country. The next essay was offered by by Miss M. Patterson, whose powers of elocution are very superior. The essay was well writtten and beautiful. It abounded in truths well told and few there were in the audience who were not impressed with the lofty ideas ever and anon launched forth by the skillful young writer. Miss E. Kimball sang Matilda Toots in a manner so clever as to convulse the audience with laughter, notwithstanding the cold and fearful predicament the fair Matilda Toots, with her four buttoned boots, was in, during the better portion of the song. Miss Kimball in rendering comic song is at home, and with such an interpreter to sing her distress Matilda Toots and her boots would rapidly grow famous. The closing essay, "Life," was from the smooth gliding pen and active brain of Miss M. Fleming. Her reasoning was clear and conclusive, and her style concise and elegant. Her essay denoted a mind well stored with knowledge aud a thorough acquaintance with philosophical matters and insight into the mysteries of science. A sprightly instrumental duet by Misses Darrah and Bowman concluded the entertainment. The judges retired and after a half-hour's consultation returned with a sealed verdict in favor of Miss Fleming, but highly complimented the efforts of all the other contestants, asserting that they had experienced much trouble in determing superiority where all had so nobly acquitted themselves. The prize, an elegant rosewood writing desk, was then formally presented to the fortunate contestant in a brief speech by Rev. W. H. Locke, the lady receiving it with a graceful bow of acknowledgment.

A number of ladies and gentlemen partook of a sumptuous repast in the dining rooms of the College after the performance, and subsequently enjoyed the remaining part of the evening in promenade, conversation and inspection of the gallery of fine art and cabinet of curiosities of the Institution. We congratulate Rev. Dr. Pershing, President of the Faculty, on the success of the occasion, and trust he may long maintain for the College that leading position among the institutions for the education of young ladies in America which it now righfully enjoys.

Painful Accident.

Mr. John Campbell, conductor of car No. 8, on the Pittsburgh & Birmingham Passenger Railway, met with an accident of a peculiar nature on Thursday evening, which may terminate seriously. He was standing on the rear platform of his car and had his pencil in his mouth, when some one struck at him playfully and striking the pencil, forced it a considerable distance down his throat. Yesterday morning his throat was very much swollen and inflamed, and it became necessary to summon a physician. Mr. Campbell is one of the most accommodating and gentlemanly conductors on the road and we regret to hear of his misfortune.

Secret of Success.

Scarcely a day passes without some occurrence to remind us that the true "secret of success" in trade is to be found in honest and fair dealing, close attention to business, and being courteous and gentlemanly to customers. We were forcibly reminded of the fact while visiting the extensive boot and shoe house of Taggert & Simen, No. 129 Federal street, Allegheny. But a few years have elapsed since these gentlemen set up business on a small scale and on a small capital, but by close attention and observing a proper regard for the interests of their customers, by being prompt to fill orders, and strictly honest in all their transactions, they have steadily ascended the ladder, until they now stand first among the business men of the two cities. Their trade has so increased that a short time since they were compelled to enlarge the present commodious four story building they now occupy, in order to meet the demands of their trade. The business is conducted in all its branches—manufacturing, wholesaleing and retailing. It is only necessary to call and examine the immense stock of boots, shoes and gaiters in their house and the excellent quantity of the goods to be satisfied as to the place to buy.

On the Boards Again.

It affords us pleasure to announce the recovery of Mr. W. C. Smythe, Manager of the American Theatre, who it will be remembered has for several weeks past been confined to his room in consequence of a gunshot wound in the leg. Mr. Smythe is a model manager, and through his enterprise and liberality we can now boast of a first-class varieties entertainment, a want long felt but vainly wished for in this city, until the present season. The circumstances under which Mr. Smythe accepted the management of the American were by no means flattering, but by careful management and a judicious expenditure of money, his determination to give to the public a varieties entertainment second to none in the country, has been accomplished, and he is now receiving that remuneration which is sure to reward the generous and liberal manager of amusements in this city. Mr. Smythe will appear for the first time since he was injured at the American, as Gilbert, in the two act drama entitled "The Midnight Murder."

The Railroad Nuisance.

A special meeting of the Committee on Railroads was held last evening to consider the matter referred to that Committee at a recent meeting of Councils relative to the nuisance which is said to exist in the Ninth, Tenth and Twelfth wards, along the line of the Allegheny Railroad, in consequence of said Company neglecting to comply with the ordinance prohibiting the use of bituminous coal as fuel for engines, within the city limits. A number of witnesses were examined and the Committee found that the nuisance complained of did exist, and recommended the parties petitioning to Councils to have it abated to proceed against the Company under existing ordinances relative thereto, which are deemed amply sufficient for their protection.

The ordinance referred to requires all railroad companies to use coke or hard coal in their engines within the city limits, and imposes a penalty of fifty dollars for each and every violation thereof.

School House Nomenclature.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF GAZETTE: Some things are appropriate, and some things are not. It is appropriate to name a public school house in the ward "Duquesne," because of the old French fort of that name. So with a public school house on Grant street to be called "Grant." But it is not appropriate to name a public school house on Centre auenue "Minersville." If it is designed to commemorate the coal mines and miners, which were in another part of the township some forty years since, it is not appropriate, for Centre avenue is not a portion of that district, once known as Minersville. Again the school house "Minersville" would carry with it the idea of mines and miners; neither are there or in the neighborhood. Will our wise and learned Directors cast and see if they can find a more appropriate name for the public school building on Centre avenue? "Centre" would be more euphoneous in the ears of Adultery.

CENTRE AVENUE.

A information of a novel character was made at the Mayor's office yesterday by Jacob Matter, in which he charges his mother with adultery. The accused is about forty years of age, and it appears that her husband, the father of the prosecutor, left the city a few months since to go to California, since which time, it is alleged, she has been living in adultery with a fine looking gentleman residing in one of the upper wards. It appears that the lady and her "Lothario" were about to leave the city for New York on a pleasure trip, and the son, in order to prevent it, made the information stated above, and also made an information against the man referred to, charging him with fornication. The accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Ladies desiring bargains in trimmings, lace goods, &c., for spring wear, should not forget to call at No. 27, Fifth avenue, where the large stock of fancy stock of fancy novelties, recently purchased by Macrum & Carlisle from Dennison & Heckert, is being rapidly disposed of at prices which can hardly fail to satisfy the most exacting.

Dr. Aborn's medical and surgical apartments, 134 Smithfield street, for the special treatment of chronic and obstinate diseases, such as Catarrh, Deafness, Discharges from the Ears, all diseases of the Eye, Throat, Lungs, Nervous Affections, &c., &c. No charge for consultation. tf

The Season for Painting.

The approach of spring sets all to bestir themselves into new activity, and while housekeepers will allot themselves much work to do cleaning, renovating and repairing, merchants and dealers will arrange their plans for a general painting up, remodeling and improving of their stores and shops. Judging of the coming season by those in the past, there will be much painting done, and we feel that it will be assisting our readers to make selection of a capable and painstaking painter by advancing a few words about Mr. John T. Gray, No. 54 North street, late Hand street. The high reputation which this gentleman has enjoyed for many years as an artistic and finished house and sign painter, is sufficient guarantee of his proficiency. Some of the finest painting and graining in the city bear his imprint, which is by all judges of the art taken as evidence of superiority. Mr. Gray keeps none but the most careful, steady and experienced mechanics in his employ, and personally superintends all work entrusted to him. By using the very best paints, oils and varnishes he is enabled to make his work durable, and satisfactory in point of excellence and finish. His rates are not cheap, but are reasonable, as he prefers doing work well or not at all, rather than to derive his profits by imposing on patrons inferior jobs with bad materials. Sign painting, lettering and glazing are made specialities, and those having such work to award cannot bestow it upon any person in the business who will perform it in better style. We have had dealings with Mr. Gray, and can commend him to our readers as honorable and upright in all his transactions.

Western Lands.

A company is forming, for which a charter has been asked of the Legislature, and no doubt will be granted, to purchase lands in the West and to assist each stockholder who emigrates to improve his lands. We look upon the company and the manner in which they propose to operate as highly commendable and one of the best things that could be done by the mechanic or laborer, who can save from their limited incomes a small amount each week or month and invest it in the above company. There can be no loss in the investment, as Western lands will always be improving in price, and the better locations will double or treble in a short time. They propose buying their lands in bulk and subdivide as will best subserve the interests of the stockholders. But we can only refer those interested to Louis Roll or Alderman Mays, of the Eleventh ward.

Fine Foreign Soaps.

We have received from Mr. Simon Johnston, the well-known druggist, corner Fourth avenue and Smithfield street, a number of specimens of very fine toilet soaps, which he imports directly from Europe, and is sole agent for the manufacturers in this city. The Glycerine toilet soap and the Skin soap are remarkably fine and should find their way into every household where toilet articles are considered of importance. The first soap mentioned contains 40 per cent. pure glycerine, deriving therefrom soothing qualities, softening the skin and preventing chapping and unpleasant roughness. As a shaving soap it is without equal. Mr. Johnston keeps a splendid assortment of imported and domestic perfumeries, toilet soaps and articles, at prices very reasonable.

What They Will Do.

Dr. Ross' Remedies are purely vegetable preparations, and are doing more good to the people than any other medicines ever offered to the public. They are sold at one dollar per bottle, and generally one or two bottles have the desired effect. We make a specialty of the following diseases, and warrant a cure in every case: Acute or Chronic Rheumatism, Catarrh, we have cured hundreds of cases, some of long standing; Dyspepsia, we believe we have the best remedy for this disease ever compounded. For diseases of the Throat and Lungs our Tar Compound is doing wonders. Dr. Ross' Remedies are manufactured and for sale wholesale and retail, at Nos. 26 and 28 Sixth street, (late St. Clair.)

Grant and his Officers.

Under the new army regulations officers from the various departments are traveling toward Washington city, and ere another week has passed, Grant will have met the greater number, if not all of those who shared with him the hardships, toils and honors of the field of battle. We would advise all those who have to pass through this city to call at the Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, where they will always find Holtzheimer prepared and ready to serve them with anything in his line. It is only strangers who need to be told of the advantages of visiting the Continental, as all others are familiar with them.

From the Army Hospital; the bloody battle-field, the mansion of the rich and the humble abode of the poor—from the office and sacred desk; from the mountain top, distant valley and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world, is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office:

* * * * * I have been in the army hospital for fourteen months, speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. Three bottles have made me a well man.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

81 Market Street.—There is perhaps no establishment in the city of its character which enjoys a more liberal patronage than that of our enterprising and worthy merchant, W. W. Moorhead, 81 Market street, dealer in lace goods and trimmings. It is only necessary, however, to make a visit to the establishment to ascertain the true cause of his success in business. His stock of goods is one of the finest and most complete to be found in the city, and the attaches of the establishment are at all times courteous and gentlemanly, and the prices are lower than the lowest.

PITTSBURGH, March 1869.

EDITORS GAZETTE: You will no doubt join me in welcoming to our city all new and useful improvements. Among the most marvellous that has come under our observation in this myriad, we hesitate not to say, is the new and improved sewing machine bearing the name of "American Button Hole Over-Seaming Sewing Machine." Like its great name, it combines all the excellencies of the best, and reaching far beyond into a domain of usefulness hitherto untraversed by sewing machines, it typifies and portrays the progressive spirit and wonderful results of the inventive genius which has marked our character as a people. I was both astonished and delighted to witness the performance of a machine, easy, simple and noiseless, which executed, without change of needle or tension, all the different varieties of sewing, hemming, felling, braiding, tucking, cording, binding, quilting, gathering and sewing on, and also works a most perfect, beautiful and durable button hole on all kinds of fabric.

Having had some experience and quite an extended knowledge of the machines already in use, and without any desire to detract any, I hesitate not to say that this new machine is the most perfect and only thorough sewing agent adapted to the various necessities of the household and workshop, and must certainly supercede all others, possessing, as it does, advantages peculiarly its own.

Respectfully yours, W. B. M.

Nearly one-half this increase is for the Triennial Assessment of Taxes under the advanced compensation to Assessors. On April 1st, 1868, the remaining seven per cent. bonds authorized by Act of Assembly, $125,000, have been issued to, and negotiated at par with the Dollar Savings Bank, for use of the Board of Managers of the Workhouse and Inebriate Asylum, of which $13,000 have been redeemed. The balance outstanding will be retired within four years, from the proceeds of the Special Tax of one mill. Notwithstanding this addition to the Funded Debt, the net "Deficit County Liability" on January 1st, 1869, exceeded that of January 1st, 1868, only $43,398.47.

INSANE.

We have had an average of 26 patients at Western Penn'a. Hospital, at Dixmont, during the year.

The number at the close of the year was 26, not counting those charged to County Commissioners.

We keep none of this class needing the care or restraint of an insane hospital, at the "Home"—believing it due to all who are so unfortunate as to require that kind of attention, that they should be permitted to enjoy all the benefits provided by the Commonwealth for their welfare.

Of course it costs more to keep them there than it would at our "Home," but believing it our duty to do the best we can for those not competent to take care of themselves, we continue to keep them at said Hospital. Rate per week $3,00, and clothing extra at cost prices.

We hope the people who foot the bills may be satisfied; if not, they must elect Directors holding sentiments akin to their own.

The last two years we reported our accounts as unsettled with the W. Pa. Hospital, owing to a difference of opinion as to their correctness.

Thus a large amount had accumulated against our institution as may be seen in our statements of accounts. We have pleasure in now saying that all said accounts, up to and including the 31st of December, 1868, have been settled and paid on terms satisfactory to our Board.

We have paid to Controller of Allegheny county, during the year 1868, for insane patients committed by Court, whose "Legal Settlements" were said to be in our District, $1,511 47.

Moses Chess, Esq., left our Board in October, having declined a re-election.

James G. Murray, Esq., succeeded Mr. Chess.

In the month of December, the following named persons were unanimously re-elected to serve the ensuing year:

JAMES M. MCELROY, Superintendent.
JAMES MC. PORTER, Farmer.
MISS MARY H. JORDAN, Matron.
MISS EMILY A. BARRY, Teacher.
REV. C. G. BRADDOCK, Chaplain.
DR. ROBERT L. WALKER, Physician.

The members of our Board take pleasure in bearing testimony both as to the ability and fidelity of the officers of the "Home," as manifested in the discharge of their several duties.

We are sorry to have to say that Miss Mary L. McCoy, our former efficient teacher, was compelled to resign her situation on account of ill health, and the vacancy was filled by the election of Miss Emily A. Barry.

Our Farm and Home are at Woodville Post Office, on Chartiers Creek, South Fayette Township, and two miles from the village of Mansfield, on the Pan-Handle Rail Road. The Board meets for transacting business at the Home on the second Thursday of every month.

Names of the Directors and their Post Office address:

JOHN F. DRAVO, Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania.
JAMES G. MURRAY, Moorehead, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania.
ROBERT H. DAVIS, Allegheny, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania.

SUPERINTENDENT,

JAMES M. M'ELROY,
Woodville P. O.,
Allegheny County, Pa.
